

A guide to regulations and bylaws: Squamish-Lillooet Regional District (SLRD) Electoral Area B

A Brief Overview

What is the SLRD?

The Squamish-Lillooet Regional District (SLRD) is a local government federation consisting of four member municipalities (District of Lillooet, Village of Pemberton, Resort Municipality of Whistler, District of Squamish) and four unincorporated rural Electoral Areas (A, B, C and D). Headquartered in Pemberton, B.C., the SLRD is governed by a Board of Directors, made up of elected municipal and electoral area representatives.

Did you know?

Short term rentals are not permitted unless proper zoning is in place, such as the Residential Tourist Accommodation and Resort Commercial Zones, which permit tourist accommodation uses.

Bed and Breakfasts (B&Bs): Although SLRD zoning bylaws include B&Bs as a permitted use in most zones, it is required that this use must be located on a property that is owner or resident occupied. B&Bs are permitted in a principal residence or a cottage/carriage house on the property, but are not permitted within secondary suites. B&Bs are to be auxiliary uses.

A change of use permit is needed when moving from a single-family dwelling to a single-family dwelling with a B&B. A change of use permit is also required for a cottage or carriage home that will be used as a B&B.

Development Permit Areas (DPAs) are designated to protect the natural environment and farming, and to ensure development is safe and compatible with the surrounding character of the surrounding area

Building Permits & Inspections

Building permits are required in the SLRD to protect the safety and interests of individuals and communities by reviewing and approving building plans before work is initiated. The SLRD strives to ensure that buildings comply with the Building Code, SLRD zoning bylaws and other applicable legislation, including conservation authority approvals and specific requirements under the Environmental Protection Act.

The Squamish-Lillooet Regional District Building Bylaw sets out the rules and regulations for issuing permits to build in Electoral Areas. Building Permits are valid for three years. Failure to obtain a Building Permit can result in construction delays, a notice on the title and or legal action.

Work that requires a building permit:

SLRD Soil Deposit and Removal Bylaw

Did you know that a permit is required to deposit or remove 10 m³ or more of soil in a year? This regulatory bylaw applies throughout the SLRD and is in place to:

- protect topsoil, agricultural lands, riparian areas and watercourses;
- prevent the introduction, establishment and spread of invasive species.

Agricultural Land Reserve

The Agricultural Land Reserve (ALR) is a provincial zone in which agriculture is recognized as a priority use. Farming is encouraged, and non-farm uses are controlled. Land, tourist accommodation and agri-tourism accommodation uses within the Agricultural Land Reserve is subject to the Agricultural Land Commission Act, ALR Use Regulation, and ALR General Regulations. For more information, visit the ALC website: <https://www.alc.gov.bc.ca/resources/the-alc-act-and-alr-regulations/>

Gatherings for an Event on land in the Agricultural Land Reserve (ALR):

The information provided below outlines the SLRD and Agricultural Land Commission's conditions for public Non-Farm Use events for up to 150 people:

- The farm must be located on land classified as a farm under the Assessment Act;
- No construction of new permanent buildings and no renovations of permanent buildings. Events are not permissible in farm buildings unless they have been upgraded and approved for assembly use, and any required upgrade construction is approved by the Agriculture Land Commission. Temporary tent structures are allowed.
- A maximum event total public attendance of 150
- Events cannot last more than 24 hours
- Parking must be provided on the property
- A maximum of 10 events per calendar year

The SLRD is planning to introduce a permitting process to regulate these events and ensure that events are safe, mitigation measures are in place and neighbours are notified of events. Stay tuned!

Updates to Civic Addressing

The Addressing Bylaw (Civic Addressing Regulatory Bylaw No. 1124, 2009) was recently updated to require all new civic address signs to be larger and more visible.

* Temporary means a total of less than four consecutive weeks in a calendar year.

A tiny home on wheels/trailers is considered a recreational vehicle. A tiny home sited on a permanent foundation is considered a dwelling unit, and is subject to zoning, septic approval and building permits. Visit the SLRD website to learn more:

Area B, Lillooet & St'at'imc Agricultural Plan (Ag Plan)	The Agricultural Plan was adopted by the SLRD on October 1, 2014; it is the culmination of a year-long public dialogue concerning the future of agriculture in the Lillooet area. Hazards in the SLRD

The SLRD is a unique area where various geological changes occur. To help mitigate risks, many regions in the SLRD require a hazard assessment and professional geotechnical sign-off before building permit issuance. The Building Inspector may require a report certified by a professional engineer with experience in geotechnical engineering. The report's purpose would be to assess the terrain/hazards of the subject property and, if necessary, recommend mitigative measures to reduce risk so development can proceed.

FireSmart

Electoral Area B is an intense wildfire area, and risks are high. Check out the BC FireSmart Manual to learn how you and your neighbours can reduce the hazards of Wildfire: <https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/public-safety-and-emergency-services/emergency-preparedness-response-recovery/embc/preparedbc/homeowner-firesmart.pdf>
